

Model Composition 4 – A Computer

I am a new computer. I have a slim monitor and a long grey keyboard. I belong to a young boy called Jovan. He loves me very much. He plays with me every day. When he is not allowed to play with me, he becomes restless and sad.

Jovan always uses me to go to the Internet to play games. Sometimes, he uses me to do his homework. I prefer him to do his homework because the games he plays are very noisy. They always give me a headache. Jovan usually turns me off at night. It is the only time I can take a break.

I like Jovan but I hope he will clean me more often.
