

Playing Football

It was a Sunday afternoon. Joe was in the field with his best friends, Tom and Andy. They were playing football.

Joe took their bags and arranged them at one end of the field. He used them as the goalposts. Then the three boys took turns to kick the ball into the goal. After practising for a while, the boys played a game. They wanted to see who could score the most goals. Andy was the best player. He scored five goals. He ran very fast and he could kick the ball very far. No one could catch up with him. Joe scored only one goal. Tom scored four goals. The boys played the whole afternoon.

They returned home in the evening. They had a great time playing football.