Using ‘and’, ‘until’, ‘who’ and ‘so that’

Rewrite the passage using ‘and’, ‘until’, ‘who’ and ‘so that’.

It is Sunday. Marie gets up very early in the morning. She can help her mother prepare breakfast.

Marie pours some batter in a frying pan to make pancakes. She cooks them. They turn golden brown. Marie piles all the pancakes on a plate. Then she pours syrup on them. After that, she helps her mother to pour milk into glasses. She also helps her mother to pour orange juice into glasses.

When breakfast is ready, Marie goes to call her brothers and father. They are in the bedrooms upstairs.

Answers

It is Sunday. Marie gets up very early in the morning so that she can help her mother prepare breakfast.

Marie pours some batter in a frying pan to make pancakes. She cooks them until they turn golden brown. Marie piles all the pancakes on a plate. Then she pours syrup on them. After that, she helps her mother to pour milk and orange juice into glasses.

When breakfast is ready, Marie goes to call her brothers and father, who are in the bedrooms upstairs.

Adapted:
Superduper Model Compositions 2
© Singapore Asia Publishers Pte Ltd. All rights reserved.
Reproducible for home/classroom use only.
STRICTLY NOT FOR SALE.
Look for other useful resources: www.sapgrp.com